They say, "A picture says a thousand words", so I am going to let most of this newsletter speak to you through the pictures. And hopefully a few will bring a smile to your face.

Since the last newsletter, the Bluebonnet Travelers have been watching it snow, staying warm during ice storms, gathering together, and having fun. Some of the highlights include the Christmas Party at the Fredriksen's home in Clear Lake and the Texas "W" Rally in Bandera. The latest was a campout in San Leon, recovering nicely from Hurricane Harvey.

Tim and I braved the frozen tundra of Iowa to pick up our new "Horizon" in January. What a story! From our little View to this amazing new coach. But there were times that I thought, "what have we done?".

My kids are thinking their mom and dad lost their minds. Why would they think that? We bought it after seeing the Winnebago release on Facebook and heck, driving it can't be that hard, right? Who cares if we can't get it in the driveway? It was so cold that the Roberts' were worried about us and invited to stay with them in Norman, OK. That was amazing. On the way back to Texas, there were only a couple of mishaps. A story for the memory books.

Seriously, come see our new coach at the next campout. And it's coming up. The Bluebonnets are going Green for St. Patrick's Day weekend in Crockett.
